We notice that William J. Bryan has addressed another appeal from Me-Me, Florida.

The nation begins to get keyed up as the day for the extra session of Congress draws nearer.

Up to date no German submarines have been seen in Lake Champlain or the Winouski river.

It might also be stated that March is retreating to some place previously prepared for it, probably in cold storage.

Quincy, Mass., is booming, but not from its granite business. It is extremely fortunate for Quincy that at this time it has shippings.

The soul of the United States nation is caloused if it permits the deliberate sinking of an American merchantship without retaliation of some sort.

Barre's new board of license commissioners had a brief and, comparatively speaking, uneventful official career, thanks to the legislature and governor of the state.

New York state is beginning to think about taking a military census. Vermont is just about completing hers. On the basis of the difference in the population of the two states, New York should have started several months ahead of Vermont.

In view of the recent reverses in the eastern section of the empire, it would not be surprising if Turkey were bringing loud protest to the kaiser's ears about the continuance of the war. The fall of Bagdad is about to be followed by the capture of Jerusalem by the British, one might judge by the sweeping progress being made in Palestine.

The much-advertised open field maneuvering on the western front seems to have slumped down into the trenches again; the Germans were averse to pitting their strategy against the entente allies. The memory of the battle of the Marne, in which French strategy turned the tide of battle and saved Paris for France, is still somewhat fresh in the minds of the German general staff.

The governor of Rhode Island issues an appeal to all aliens in his state to become naturalized citizens of the United States. No doubt the governor of Vermont would desire to issue a similar appeal to the aliens of his state, emphasizing at the same time that the prospective citizens maintain a higher conception of citizenship and loyalty to American institutions than a certain educator in the University of Vermont showed after taking out first citizenship papers since the outbreak of the present war. If one is to become an American citizen he should, in fact as well as in name, renounce all allegiance to the country from which he came.

According to official reports received by the government in Washington only 83 Germans have crossed the border from the United States into Mexico since the probability of war with Germany developed. This figure is much in contrast to the lurid rumors heard about the country of the vast numbers of Germans who were assembling in Mexico for the purpose of making attack on the United States as soon as war is declared. It is probable that the official reports are not completely accurate and that more Germans have actually gotten across the border than known to the officials. However, the number is scarcely large enough to furnish any uneasiness to the people of the United States, much less to the government itself. It would take a force of many thousands of well-equipped men to make any real serious effort on the United States, even in the Mexican border states. Therefore, we should not worry needlessly.

A MAN OF EXPERIENCE FOR A NEW JOB.

The appointment of John E. Weeks of Middlebury to be director of state institutions under the law formulated under recommendation of Gov. Graham brings to the new administrative position a man who has had a great deal of experience in connection with Vermont state institutions and who, therefore, might be expected to bring out favorable results from his supervision. In addition to his extensive legislative service at Montpelier, during one term of which he was speaker of the House, Mr. Weeks has been a trustee of the state industrial school at Vergennes, cattle commissioner and chairman of the board of penal institutions. In the latter capacity he has been brought directly in contact with several public institutions in the state and he will enter upon his new duties as director of state institutions with an intimate knowledge of conditions. Mr. Weeks will have to blaze a new trail, so to speak, in the conduct of the affairs of the office of director of state institutions, but there are few men in Vermont who are in better position to establish precedents in that office. He should be able

Why Not Get Rid of Eczema?

If your skin itches and burns with eczema or any such tormenting, unsightly skin disease, simply wash the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little Resinol Ointment. Usually the itching stops INSTANTLY, you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins. That is because the soothing, antiseptic Resinol medication arrests the action of the disease, and almost always restores the tortured, inflamed skin to perfect health—quickly, easily, and at little cost. Prescribed by doctors for over 20 years, and sold by every druggist.

What the Right Soap Does for Your Skin

Money cannot buy a purer, more cleansing toilet soap than Resinol Soap. And the healing Resinol medication in it helps to keep the complexion clear, fresh, and beautiful.

MORE HOLLWEG EVASION.

In almost flippantly throwing the responsibility of the threatened war onto the shoulders of the United States, the German chancellor declared that Germany has not had, and does not now have, any intention of "attacking the United States of America" and that, therefore, if there should come war between the two nations the United States would be the one to start it. He then falls back on the old subterfuge, framed up by himself, that because the United States did not bring Great Britain to do just as Germany wished, then Germany is justified in an indiscriminate campaign against the commerce of all nations. In his first assertion the spokesman for the German nation seems to take it for granted that to attack the United States would be to send a navy against our shores and then to land an army of invasion. That, according to his apparent interpretation, would constitute "attacking the United States." Meanwhile, according to that same manner of reasoning, German vessels of war could continue to make war on the shipping of a neutral nation and still not be "attacking the United States." He overlooks the fact that Germany is violating all international agreements in this attacking neutral commerce without the usual right of "search and seizure" being exercised prior to such attacks. He purposely overlooks that fact and reiterates that Great Britain is conducting a blockade, which he calls illegal, although he indirectly admits that a blockade is according to rules of warfare. It is evident from both the tone and the letter of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's assertion in the Reichstag on March 29, that the United States has nothing to hope from that source in the prevention of the declaration of war between itself and Germany, and that it is up to the Washington government to go ahead on the lines already laid down.

A Bad Back Made Good

(By L. W. Bower, M. D.)

Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys, hence the congestion of blood causes backache in the same manner as a similar congestion in the head causes headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack of ambition to do things.

The latest and most effective means of overcoming this trouble is to eat sparingly of meat, drink plenty of water between meals and take a single Anuric tablet before each meal for a while.

Simply ask your favorite druggist for Anuric (double strength) if you aren't feeling up to the standard. If you have lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, begin immediately this treatment with Anuric. Most scientists and medical men believe that because of an over-abundance of uric acid in the system, uric salts are deposited in the tissues and cause rheumatism and gout.

The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Institution in Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested Anuric and have been with one accord successful in eradicating and throwing off from the system the uric acid which accumulates and poisons. Patients having once used Anuric at this institution have repeatedly sent back for more.

Such a demand has been created that Dr. Pierce decided to put Anuric in a ready-to-use form. It will be their own fault if those suffering from uric acid troubles do not take advantage of this wonderful remedy.—Adv.
